

No More Violations

(verse)

Someone's begging me to try again
Do you really think I'm a fool?
Someone's scared and desperate
You really have no clue
Someone's tossing their charm around
Plotting and making their move
Someone's ready to play again
Is this real, or déjà vu

(chorus)

No more violations, no more stupid games
I see right through you, my life's gonna change
No more violations, no more stupid game
You're not in control, and I'm not insane

(verse)

Someone believes they have the right
To do just as they choose
Someone only sees black and white
And wonders why we're abused
Someone has to be in control
In fear of what I will see
Someone has insulted
My integrity

(chorus)

No more violations, no more stupid games
I see right through you, my life's gonna change
No more violations, no more stupid games
You're not in control, and I'm not insane

(bridge)

Time to forget all the memories I've seen
I'm re-playing, suffocating, no it's not a dream
I've always walked away, pretending nothing's wrong
I've been vindicated, of this desecrating
You can sweep this one under the rug
But you can't forget
No, you can't forget

(chorus)

No more violations, no more stupid games

I see right through you, my life's gonna change

No more violations, no more stupid game

You're not in control, and I'm not insane
